DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1 and 2, drawn to a method, classified in class 172, subclass 1.
 - II. Claims 3-6, drawn to a turf drill chuck, classified in class 172, subclass 776.
 - III. Claims 7-13 and 23-25, drawn to a turf drill with bit, classified in class 172, subclass 35.
 - IV. Claims 14-20 and 26, drawn to a reciprocating aerifier with a head, classified in class 172, subclass 21.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method of claim 1 can be practiced by another apparatus that bores into the soil and rotates, the apparatus not requiring the components of the chuck in claim 3 or claim 6.

Inventions I and III are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method of claim 1 can be practiced by another apparatus that bores into the soil and rotates, the apparatus not requiring the components of the turf drill in claim 7 or turf drill chuck of claims 23, 24, or 25.

Inventions I and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the method of claim 1 can be practiced by another apparatus that bores into the soil and rotates, the apparatus being other than that having the components of the reciprocating aerifier of claim 14 or claim 26.

Inventions II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the turf drill and bit of Group III does not require the lock and arbor of Group II. The subcombination has separate utility as just a chuck.

Inventions II and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and

(2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the turf drill and bit of Group III does not require the lock and arbor of Group II. The subcombination has separate utility as just a chuck.

Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as an aerifier. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. A telephone call was made to Chris Keirs on December 6, 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. The attorney specifically requested that the Examiner send a written restriction before election.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
